

A world map showing the distribution of countries by color. The map includes North America, South America, Europe, Africa, Asia, and Australia. Countries are colored in various shades of brown, tan, and grey, with some countries in North America highlighted in yellow.

